Lecturer/Senior Lecturer Architectural Stained Glass

Salary :£26,093 - £40,204

The Welsh School of Architectural Glass at Swansea Institute is seeking to recruit an enthusiastic and innovative architectural glass artist/designer to join its existing team of lecturing staff for the coming academic year.

Established in 1935 the School currently offers a portfolio of courses at HND/C, BA and MA levels in the field of Architectural and Stained Glass from its home in a Grade II listed building in the centre of Swansea.

The successful applicant will be expected to teach across the School's current portfolio of architectural glass courses and to undertake a range of course administration and development duties as directed by the Head of School and Dean of Faculty.

A degree in Architectural Glass or related subject is essential, preferably with relevant professional experience or a post-graduate qualification. Experience of recent teaching in higher education would be highly desirable.

For informal enquiries about the post, please contact Ian Walsh, Head of School, on 01792 481120 or at ian.walsh@sihe.ac.uk.

In return, we offer comprehensive in-house training and development and benefits that include generous holidays and a final salary pension scheme.

Further details together with an application form may be obtained by visiting our website www.sihe.ac.uk/jobs or sending a large SAE, quoting ref: L/SLGlass to the Head of Personnel, Swansea Institute of Higher Education, Mount Pleasant Campus, SA1 6ED.

Closing date for the return of completed application forms: 12th October 2007
